REPLY TO THE INFIDEL ATTACK OF THE INDEPENDENT ON CHRISTIANITY.

In the discussion of our arguments in favor of the revalation of the Bible and its doctrines as divine information and communication of God to man, we must beforehand understand the meaning of the word revelation. Webster says, the reveal means, Specifically to communicate that which could not be known or discovered without a divine or supernatural instruction. And revelation means, The act of revealing divine truth. That which is revealed by God to man. We light therefore on three points by which we cut off all reasonable opposition to this important subject and surround it thereby with such a line of argument which must convince every upright, reasonable man of the divinity of the Bible and its claims. The first point will be the necessity of revelation, and therein we proof that on the most important subject we would forever be left in darkness by human reason and its investigations if there was no divine supernatural instruction. The second point will be the possibility and importance of a revelation from God to man. The third and last point will bring the evidences, to substantiate the claims of the Bible and its doctrines to be divine.

The first question then is, is a divine, supernatural instruction of God to man necessary, or is human reason sufficient to dissolve all important questions of life, on which we must have an answer to enlight, guide and cheer us. We not only affirm but prove such necessity by the following testimonies, which cannot be gainsayed even by infidels. Firstly, Human reason, and human sciences cannot even dissolve the mysteries of nature much less dissolve the spiritual mysteries of life existing. Cicero, a learned ancient Roman, respected for his learning by all classes and schools of ancient and modern times, spake of the capabilities and fallacies of human reasoning, in his Tusceans in the following manner. "Only deficient sparks of knowledge nature has given us, which immediately, through bad morals and errors are corrupted and extinguished, also that nowhere the light of nature appears in its brightness and clearness. To our spirit are given the germs of virtue, which of themselves would lead to a happy life. But scarcely born we live continually in a constant corruption and in the midst of all perverted opinions and errors, so that we absorb error almost with the milk of our mothers; and by our teachers we are led so much in error, that the truth is compelled to give way to a mere semblance of truth and the voice of nature to a deep rooted illusion." Who can gainsay this deep insight of Cicero of the deplorable condition of our human nature? Surely nobody! Let us now see, how this statement of Cicero is verified by the great scientific men in the different fields of human science. Humbold the great naturalist, Vol. 1, page 80, English edition, speaks of our knowledge of all natural objects thus: "If then nature (understanding by the term all natural objects and phenomena) be illuminated in extent and contents, it likewise presents itself to the human intellect as a problem which cannot be grasped and whose solution is impossible, since it requires a knowledge of the combined action of all natural forces. Such an acknowledgment is due where the actual state and prospective development of phenomena, contribute the sole objects of investigation, which does not venture to depart from the strict rules of induction." If this great hero of natural science, the worshiped idol of German infidels, was forced by the real state of things to this admission, the thoughtless, boasting expressions of confirmatory science and of blows dealt by astronomy and the discoveries in the science of geology, must solicit pity on account of their ignorance. Same volume, page 84, "For of actual creation, of origin, the beginning of existence or from non-existence we have no experience and can therefore form no conception." Creation as a mystety also makes revelation necessary.

And Guenstedt, also a German naturalist, says, page 281, in his work, "Certainly can the natural sciences boast, that they with surety know to day single things that lay on the surface, nevertheless these single things were first obtained through a system of errors; for when one generation declares before hand that as superstition which the following one declares above any doubt, so will that not fail to make a respective impression on the modest observer; they are but human convictions, that will soon again appear in a different light, if a further progress reveals new view. Without getting tired of observation, we long for enlightning, which in the usual course of things cannot be especially expected.

Lotze, a great natural philosopher of the present time, says: "Never will we be able to search, how being and existence is created, but this question would only then be of importance to us, if the problem of our knowledge would consist in the creation of the world. We have only to comprehend what already exists, and therefore do we most certainly acknowledge that all being is a miracle, the real event of which we presuppose, and the origin of which we hold to be a fact, but never can we solve the riddle of its past history.

Fichte, a German philosopher, in the first part of his work called Natural Law, confesses that the first chapter of the Bible contained "The most profound and most sublime wisdom, and presents facts, to which all philosophy at the end must return back again." Cuvier a very renowned naturalist, acknowledges that, after all his investigations, he was compelled to come back to the words in the book of Genesis: "In the beginning God made heaven and earth."

Seneca, the great Roman sage says, "The most parts of which man has any certainty he knows through faith." By this he certainly refers to the ancient national traditions.

Laplace, the learned Frenchman, says, "The eyes of philosophers are nothing more than the expression of ignorance in which we are the real causes."

Prof. Huxley, says, "For after all what do we know of this terrible Matter except as a name for the unknown and hypothetical cause of states of our own consciousness."

Darwin, the renowned originator of human monkeyism, says, "In what manner the mental powers were first developed in the lowest organisms is as hopeless an inquiry as how life first originated. These are problems for the distant future, if they are ever to be solved by man."

Buechner one of the most rancorous German materialists says. "How and in what way this increase of organic beings really happened, can not yet now in any way with scientific precision be stated."

The great naturalist Burmeister in his history of creation, acknowledges himself in page 2 of his work that the foundation of their systems consists alone in unproved assumption and hypothesis. Hear him:

"Such representations, to which we have to fix the name of hypothesis, must play a great part in the history of our creation and on her territory on that of probability, will we find ourselves the more the further away the period is, which we consider, from the present time, and the less the event through facts permits of investigation and comprehension at the present time."

Hugh Miller the renowned naturalist of Scotland, says in his Footprints of the Creator, page 287: "Such seems to be the true reading of the wondrous inscription chisiled deep in the rocks. It furnishes us with no clue by which to unravel the unapproachable mysteries of creation; these mysteries belong to the wondrous Creator, and to him only. We attempt to theorize upon them, and to reduce them to law, and all nature rises up against us in our presumptuous rebellion.'

But now to other sciences. Dr. Maudesley an Englishman in his lectures delivered before the Royal College of physicians, on the title, 'Mind and Body,' denounces the old metaphysics thus: "No one pretends that physiology can for many years to come furnish the complete data of a positive mental science; all that it can at present do is to overthrow the date of a false psychology."

About astronomy we find the same uncertain state existing. The system of Copernicus and Kepler, which has ruled the schools for so long a time, and on which we placed so much confidence is now attacked with such force and arguments, that it seems to be unable to keep long above water. If the boasting runaway called Progress, did not know of this new progression in glorious science of astronomy, turning away from the present system, he certainly proves thereby, that he is not up to time with his literary studies. In order to draw the attention of him and all our readers to this great rising revolution, we refer to two books, the one in German from Dr. Karl Schoeffer from Berlin with the title: The Contradictions in Astronomy, in which he proves the present planetory system with the sun as its centre and the earth revolving to be a humbug. The other book is published in English with the following title: The new principles or True Sysetm of Astronomy, in which the earth is proved to be the stationary centre of the solar system; and the sun is shown to be only 365,006 miles from the earth, and the moon only 32, 835,5 miles distant; while the sun travels yearly in an ellipse around the earth, the other planets moving about the sun in ellipses also." By V. J. Morrison, F. A. L. L. Commander R. N. This brittish matrine commander is said to have studied about 60 years on the subject. And Dr. Schoepffer oven refers to personal interviews with Humbold and the great astronomer Gauss of Grettingen, in which they both admitted the truth of his objections. We refer to this great dispute only to show, that even our wisdom of astronomy is not to be trusted as reliable and safe. A learned Hungarian by the name of Nagy seemed to be the first of the objectors. But how is it about philosophy? Let the great philosophor Hegel anwer. He says in introduction to his history of philosophy: "To every new upstarting system can be applied the words of Peter to Saphira: Behold the feet of them, which have durried thy husband are at the boor and will carry thee out."

This prophesy has been verified indeed in the history of philosophy. Since the time of Plato and Aristotle down to the present time, history mentions numerous systems of philosophy, but it also relates their great diversity of opinion, and their mournful fate. Not two were ever agreeing. One brock down what the other had laboriously reared and so system followed sytsem. As they were all build on probable hypotheseses originating from mans fallacious mind, they were wanting in impregnability which is alone the result of eternal truth, and consequently passed away like the flower on the field with but a brief existence.

EQUAL TO MARK TWAIN.

Newspaper writers will thoroughly appreciate the following o'er true tale, which we take from the Philadelphia Dispatch,

A week or two ago one of our reporters had occasion to refer to a certain woman whom we will call Hannah Smith, as a denizen of the eleventh ward. A day or two afterward a huge man entered the office with his brow clothed with thunder. In his hand he carried a fearful club, and at his side trotted a bull dog whom hunger had evidently made desperate. With that quick appreciation of the situation which is creditable to the superior intelligence of educated men, the editors of this paper and the proprietor darted to the window, climbed outside, slid down the lightning rod, and went across the street to watch the bloody fray through a spy glass. With the fearlessness of conscious innocense we sat still, merely inserting our legs in two sections of stove pipe, to guard against any misapprehension of facts on the part of the dog. The man with the club approached.

'Are you the editor?' he asked, spitting on his hands and grasping his club. We told him that the editor had gone out; that he had gone to the north pole with Capt. Hall, and that he would not return until 1876, in time for the centennial celebration.

'Are you the proprietor?' asked the man.

We explained to him that we were not, that the proprietor was out; that he had gone to South America for the purpose of investigating the curative properties of the cundurango, and he expected to remain there for several years.

'Well, whoever you are,' exclaimed the warrior, 'my name is Smith!'

We told him we were glad; because if there was one thing better than the possession of the name Smith, it was the privilege of knowing a man of that name.

'But, Smith,' we said, 'why this battle array? It is absurd for a man to put on the panoply of war, and frisk into editors' sanctums fumbling a club and accompanied by a disheartening bull dog, simply because his name happens to be Smith.

He said he had called to burst the head of that man who had insulted his sister.

'Is it possible, Smith, that such a thing could have been done by any one in this office?'

'Is, but it was, though; and her name was published, too. Miss Smith—Hanner Smith.

'May we be permitted to inquire, Mr Smith, what is the precise nature of the affront offered to Hannah?'

'Well, you see,' said Smith, 'the blackguard said she was a denizen And I want you to understand,' exclaimed Smith, becoming excited, and brandishing his club in a wild manner over our head, while the bull dog advanced and began to sniff up and down the stovepipe—

'I want you to understand that she is a decent young woman, with a good character, and none of your denizens and such truck. The man who says she is a denizen is a blackguard and thief, and I'll smash him over the nose if I get a chance. They may say what they please about me, but a man who abuses my sister has got to suffer.' And Smith struck the table in a violent manner with his club, while the bull dog put his forelegs on the back of our chair.

'We pacified Smith with a dictionary. We pointed out to the raging warrior that the Websterian definition of the word denizen gives such a person an unoffending character, and deprives the term of everything like reproach. Smith said he was satisfied, and he shook hands and kicked the bull dog down stairs. The editor and proprietor, seeing that all was safe, immediately climbed the lightning rod and soon appeared at the window, where they were introduced to Smith, with the remark that they had returned from the North Pole and the clime of ounduragoo somewhat unexpectedly, in order to surprise their relations.

And now we suppose Smith will be mad because we have told this story about him, and he will be coming down to interview us again in war's magnificent stern array with a fresh bull dog. But it will be in vain. We have rented an office in the top of the shot tower, and have planted torpedoes and spring guns all the way up the stairs. We warn this incendiary Smith to beware.

THE HUMORS OF STUDIO LIFE.

Studio life, notwithstanding its seclusion, makes one acquainted with strange visitors. I was just beginning the day's work by sponging a portrait which was almost finished, turning over paint brushes, and revolving several technical queries in my mind, when a noise, akin to a knock, yet more like an attempt to enter without knocking, was heard. Not a well bred knock, at all events. I opened the door. A middle aged man slouched in.

"Oh! I thought ye was shut up. You're name's on the door, I take it. How long have you been here.?"

"Several years."

"Ye don't say so! Tain't finished, is it?" running his fingures over a head carefully copied from Andrea del Sarto. "And that one too?" contemptuously. "How rough it is! Face to dark. Tain't finished, is it?"

"Yes; the boy's face was in shadow."

To appease my visitor, I produced some copies sufficiently elaborate to be turned to the wall in these later days, when we are striving, so many of us, to avoid the sin of over modeling.

'Ah!' said my visitor, walking toward a marine picture. "That's what I like, that's good! It is from nature? Don't think much of yer made-up pictures. Want them straight from nature.'

Mentally I shook hands with him over this sentiment. The marine view was priced, somewhat to his discomfiture; and he began to move nervously toward the door, near which he espied a study of color from Diaz.

'Did you do that.'

'No.'

'Well, taint no great of a picture. Painted quickly and carelessly.'

Next a gray landscape came in for criticism. 'Kinder dull, ain't it? Needs cleaning and varnishing, hey? What's this, a flaw in the canvas?'

'No; that's a man.'

In the name of high art, what was coming next? Apprehensions of something too comical to withstand allayed by his his sudden exit, with the inquiry, 'Any more artists in this building?'

'None whose doors are open to visitors.'

The oldest tree on record in Europe, is asserted to be the cypress of Somma, in Lombardy, Italy. This tree is believed to have been in existence at the time of Julius Cæsar, forty two years before Christ and is therefore 1011 years old. It is 100 feet in height and 20 feet in circumference at one foot from the ground. Napoleon, when laying down his plan for the great road over the Simplon, diverged from a straight line to avoid injuring this tree.

Nothing is more contrary to the spirit of charity than rash and hasty censure.

TOO GOOD COMPANY FOR ME.

One evening this summer, a lady who belongs on the editorial staff of one of the leading dailies of New York, had been detained by office duties until rather a late hour. Living on the Heights in Brooklyn, but a short distance from Fulton Ferry, it was not much of a venture to go home without an escort, and so she started. On the boat, standing outside, enjoying the refreshing breeze after the day's toil, she perceived a gentleman standing in rather close proximity to where she was leaning over the guards, but said nothing.

'Are you alone?' said he, as the boat neared the slip.

'No, sir,' said the lady, and without further interruption, when the boat touched stepped off

'I thought you were not alone,' said the fellow, stepping to her side again.

'I am not,' said the lady.

'Why, I don't see any one; who is with you?'

'God Almighty and the angels, sir,—I'm never alone.'

'You keep too good company for me, madam--good night;' and he shot for a Fulton avenue car then nearly a block away. The heroic woman was permitted to keep her right as the law directs, and enjoy that full measure of quiet satisfaction one always feels from keeping good company—N. Y. Paper.

Reference is made to an invention which aims at the entire abolition of oil and all other lubricating material for boxes, slides, and every condition of motion where metalic friction is to be overcome or expected. It is claimed that such a result has been actually achieved, and that there are engines now running with the material which the proprietors ever have worked to complete satisfaction for weeks and months. In a general way, the discovery—which has received the name of metalline—is described as consisting of such combinations and manipulations of various metallic substances as to make a surface on which the ordinary axles, cranks, pins, slides, &c., of iron, steel, brass, or any other metal, will run with much less friction, without heat that comes within the slightest possibility of danger, and without increase of the motive power used. It is stated to be the work of a scientific and practical gentleman, well known both in this country and in Europe, who has spent a great many years in the study of physical forces and their effects, with especial reference to metals.

Every column of a newspaper contains from ten to twenty thousand distinct pieces of metal, according to size of paper and type. The displacement of a single one makes an error.—Is it any wonder that errors occur? In the large offices, professional proof readers are kept, whose practised eyes, passing twice over every line of proof detects most of the errors, a boy also kept for that purpose at the same time reading the copy aloud.

Still mistakes are frequently occurring, after coming from such hands, and probably no newspaper or book was ever yet published without errors that might be detected by the merest novice. In book printing, it is estimated that proof reading costs half as much as the composition. In country offices, the editor has generally to be his own foreman, printer, book keeper, and almost everything else, and if the same care had to be exercised that is deemed indispensable on the best city sheets, the country newspapers could not be published at all, because of the expense.

The State Camp Meeting is soon to be made a corporate body. The association already owns about $3000 worth of property, including eighty tents, and a large tabernacle tent. The Stark County Agricultural Society charged $400 for the rent of its premises for ten days. The trustees of the Camp Meeting consider this exorbitant and willl feel called upon to select other grounds in case the figure is not reduced. The gross receipts of the late Camp Meeting were nearly $2800.

Recently in one of the North Carolina courts the grand jury, as is now usually the case, was composed partly of negroes. After being "charged" in the usual way by his honor, the jury retired to their room, when one of the white jurors ventured to ask a colored associate if he understood the charge of the judge. "Golly!" exclaimed the astonished amendment, "he don't charge us nuffin for dat, does he? Why, thought we was a gwine to get pay."

A minister asked a little boy who had been converted, "Does not the devil tell you that you are not a Christian?" "Yes, sometimes." "Well, what do you say to him?" "I tell him, that whether I am a Cristian or not, it's none of his business," replied the boy, with something of Luther's spirit.

When the steamboat R E Lee exploded her boiler, a small boy was blown high in the air, but fortunately was caught on the fly by the engineer, and escaped unhurt. Query—Is that engineer a base ballist?

A lawyer was once pleading a case that brought tears into the jurors' eyes, and every one gave up the case as gone for the plaintiff. But the opposing council rose and said, 'May it please the court, I do not propose to bore for water, but—' Here the tears were suddenly dried, laughter ensued, and the defendants got clear.

Mr. Buster is an opponent of free schools from principle. He goes agin edyeashun, not because of its unconstitutianality, but because it's unnatural. Ignorance is natur, he says. 'We are born ignorant and ought to be kept so.'

We take it for granted that all who read this paper, and are entitled to the privilege, will go and vote next Tuesday, and vote right—as they think. There is no exaggerating the responsibility of the voter, for in this country he is the ruler—he says who shall and who shall not hold office, & indicates how his servants shall act. It is true that men selected for office hold positions of trust, and they are looked to by their constituents as the agents in whom they have entrusted more or less power, with an interest corresponding to the elevated positions in which they are placed. The questions at issue in the coming contest are not regarded of as much importance as when national offices are to be filled. If the democrats of Stark county, and of Ohio, follow the guidance of their late chief leader, Mr. Vallandigham, in his commendable programme known as the new departure, there certainly is not that wide difference between the two parties as at other times. But it is supposed by some of the republicans that even if the democratic party does follow this lead in voting, if they succeed in electing their candidates they will go back into the old ruts of the party. For this reason republicans are on the alert, so as to prevent such a catastrophe. The way it looks now, it appears pretty evident that the democracy will be badly beaten in the state offices; but they are making desperate efforts to secure the legislature. There is where the earnestness of the contest centers. The next legislature is entrusted with more than ordinary responsibility, and for this reason the contest is principally directed to the law-making part of the government. It is a matter of grave import that the state be justly divided into districts, and that some worthy and well qualified man be elected to the United States senate. Ohio is not so poorly off for able men but what a good choice can be made between several, either of whom is competent to honor that elevated station.

But these are rather more of political questions than many others which are interesting the people. The liquor subject will have to be met some day, and some party will have to take the responsibility of acting more decidedly upon it then has yet been done. True we are told by many that the laws we have are quite good enough, if they are enforced. But we dont see that sort of people carrying out these laws, although they tell us that it is as easy to do so as to go to dinner. It is true, too, that the laws, in some localities, are enforced, but if examined into it is under such circumstances that those who suffer are obliged to use the poor tools they have, even at the risk of losing their cases. Sometimes they succeed, where a combination of circumstances favor such a result, but a great many times they dont even after the most earnest efforts. Some mending of these laws, then will have to be done before many years.

MONEY IN PLENTY.—The last Rep & Rep. of Canton gives startling statements as to the means which are to be employed to carry the coming election, with the object of defeating Mr. Wales, republican candidate for the state senate. From various sources it is ascertained that men have been offered sums of money varying from $200 to $500, with which to go to work and purchase voters. This is a high handed measure to be introduced into Stark county, and looks very much as if the reign of Tammany is trying to embrace a larger area than Manhattan island. The same paper says, "The startling discovery has been made that there is an organized attempt to purchase the votes and influence of republicans being made by the democrats." If we understand it aright this money is not furnished by the democrats of this county, but it is intimated that Tammany produces the greenbacks. There are two reasons for defeating Mr. Wales. One is to get the legislature democratic so as to elect a U. S. senator, and also give them the power to re-district and jerrymander the state so as to secure democratic congressmen and legislators hereafter. The party will work hard for this. Another great reason for this startling measure is, that Mr. Wales goes unreservedly for equal taxation—that is, for making the railroads pay a fair, proportionate share of the taxes. It is further alleged, on highly respectable authority, that a railroad agent said "that any amount of money would be forthcoming" to secure Mr. W's defeat. If these things are so, it is time for voters to wake up to a sense of the danger by which they are threatened. The inquiry will be, who can be bought, and who will sell themselves for a few dollars? If there are such marketable voters they wont be very willing to let the world know their names; because the stamp of infamy will be so deeply impressed on them that they will be disgraced as much as Judas or Arnold ever was for their treachery. A man who will sell his vote should be forever disfranchised, for he is not fit to wear the badge of a freeman. He can be purchased like a sheep, and sold as cheap as a runty pig. Among the 5000 or 6000 voters, Jin Stark who is there that can be bought and sold?

New York has about the crookedest mess of politics of any other state in the union. If not the mystery of iniquity it is the mystery incomprehensible to the world outside of that state—and they must be smart if they can comprehend all the intricacies themselves—even the managers. Sam Black, once an active politician, used to illustrate this knotty class of politics by telling, in his inimitable way, of a very contrary deacon, who always gave trouble in the bodies where he was an element. One day this truculent old fellow so tried the Christian patience of his fellows that one of them was led to exclaim of him, that "he was the crookedest stick that ever grew on Zion's hill." So it is of New York politics. How many factions the democrats is divided into, who can tell? And it is the same of the republicans. They held a state convention the other day, and had a glorious quarrel over some questions, we dont know what. In consequence of this state of things we cannot conclude that all the politicians of the Empire state are a set of unmitigated rascals. for they have many honest men there, but somehow the rascals rule, or manage to get the upper hand. Their political code ought to be simplified, the crooked sticks cut off, and give the straight ones a chance to control the interests of the state.

Mr. Greeley, editor of the Tribune, has been making speeches over in Trumbull and Mahoning counties, and judging from what the papers say, he made hosts of friends. He discussed various questions, politics, agriculture, and other matters, especially the tariff, the biggest hobby he rides. He seems to have made his hearers believe that there is no mistake in his position in favor of a big tariff, and his opposition to free trade. It is a debatable, perplexing question.

There is trouble among the big bugs these days. A New York committee of seventy have commenced prosecutions against Tweed, Hall, and others, who have been stealing their millions from the city. While this is going on in the east Brigham Young has been arrested for living with sixteen wives. These fellows have all been having a good time, and a little exposure if not scourging may be of use to them. Small offenders have to suffer, and larger ones should not escape.

Gen. Grant, the president, according to the New York Sun, must be one of the worst men living. It seems to be the special mission of that paper to find fault with everything the president says, does or even thinks. All is wrong that he ever has done, or templates doing, or ever will do. Columns of wrath are unbottled daily and poured over the land, but it is doubtful with all this effort whether the Sun will eclipse Gen. Grant in the minds of the American people. He has some friends left.

It took the hardest kind of political fighting the other day in the republican convention of Massachusetts to beat Gen. Butler. In no other way could it be done but by the union of all opposing candidates. Mr. Washburn received the nomination for governor, and Butler acquiesces. Although unsuccessful in this case, the indomitable general is not killed off, and will give somebody trouble yet.

CORRECTIONS.—In the 31st line of the second paragraph of the Reply, &c., in last number, read reason instead of religion. In same article, second column and 6th line from top, read unmercifully instead of mercifully—and in 26th line, same colum, read prerequisite instead of perquisite. In first column 3 lines from bottom; in to days paper, the following quotation is omited: "Humboldt, page 150. In the interior of the earth where all knowledge of its chemical and mineralogical character fails, we are again limited to as pure conjecture as in the remotest bodies that revolve around the sun. We can determine nothing with certainty," &c. In second column same article, after 7th paragraph read as follows: And the physicist Bishop says—"How the first organism came on the earth is to us natural philosophers just as much a mystery as how the world originated." The naturalist Colta says—"The first origin of the mass of the earth is an undissolving riddle by which we can alone appeal to an unsearchable power of a Creator.'

M. L. Holbrook, M. D., editor of the Herald of Health, N. Y., has just published a dollar book the title of which is Parturition Without Pain. This little work has been prepared with great care, with the hope of rendering an important aid to prospective mothers, and to reduce to the lowest minimum the sufferings of rearing children. The directions are all such as have been thoroughly proved to be good, and they are so simple that they can be easily followed. A very large number of cultivated and distinguished persons in this country and England have adopted the methods here laid down with the best results, thousands more if they but knew them might reap the same benefit. In the Appendix are discussed many important questions which all should understand. A great many people are interested in just such information as this work imparts, and by sending to the publishers, Wood & Holbrook, 15 Laight st., New York, they can obtain it in a convenient shape.

ARRIVALS.—Mr. Coggeshall, formerly a citizen of this place, but for several years a resident of Springfield is here, on a visit to his relatives and old acquaintances.

Mr. J. E. McLain arrived home safely from the far west on Monday morning, enjoying excellent health and spirits.

Mr. Joseph Coleman came with him as far as Chicago, and wishing to visit other places before reaching home is a day or two later in his arrival.

MR PRINTER—I sort of liked the square, blunt way of saying things by Progress, though he dont seem to think as I do. He always said something when he used words, which could be understood. I was curious to count the columns of his pieces and to this time they make just about seven and a half. Somebody, I dont say who, is trying to answer Progress, but I cant understand him. He has already consumed fifteen columns, and God knows how many more are to come, for I see the awful words to be continued at the end of his last piece. Perhaps he is too learned for me, or I lack sense to understand his logic.

THE

AMERICAN WASHER!

PRICE, $5.50.

The American Washer saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no longer dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting. It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a quilt to a lace curtain or cambric handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of the Little Gem! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

All that is asked for this great labor saver, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly. Sole agents for the United States,

ONE MILLION OF LIVES SAVED!

It is one of the remarkable facts of this remarkable age, not merely that so many persons are victims of dyspepia or indigestion, but its willing victims. Now we would not be understood to say that any one regards dyspepsia with favor, or feels disposed to rank it among the luxuries of life. Far from it. Those who have experienced its torments would scout such an idea. All dread it, and would gladly dispense with its unpleasant familiarities. There are diseases more acute and painful, and which more frequently prove fatal; but none, the effects of which are more distressing to the body. If there is a wretched being in the world it is

A CONFIRMED DYSPEPTIC.

But it not our intention to discant on the horrors of dyspepsia. To describe them truthfully is simply an impossibility. We have said that dyspepsia is perhaps the most universal of human diseases. This is emphatically the case in the United States. Whether this general prevalence is due to the character of the food, the method of its preparation, or the hasty manner in which it is usually swallowed, is not our province to explain. The great fact with which we are called to deal is this :

DYSPEPSIA PREVAILS

almost universally.

Nearly every other person you meet is a victim, an apparently willing one; for were this not the case, why so many sufferers, when a certain, speedy and safe remedy is within the reach of all who desire to avail themselves of it? But says a dyspeptic, What is this remedy? to which we reply, This great alleviator of human suffering is almost as widely known as the English language. This acknowledged panacea is none other than

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Would you know more of the merits of this wonderful medicine than can be learned from the experience of others? Try it yourself, and when it has failed to fulfil the assurance of its efficacy given by the proprietor, then abandon faith in it.

LET IT BE REMEMBERED

first of all, that Hoofland's German Bitters is not a rum beverage.

They are not alcoholic in any sense of the term. They are composed entirely of the pure juice or vital principle of roots. The extracts from which they are compounded are prepared by one of the ablest German chemists. The objections which hold with so much force against preparations of this class, namely—that a desire for intoxicating drinks is stimulated by their use, are not valid in case of the German Bitters. Their effects can be in all cases of the biliary system. Hoofland's German Bitters stand without an equal, acting promptly and vigorously on the liver; they remove its torpidity and cause healthful secretion of the bile. They impart vigor and strength to the entire system, causing the patient to feel like another being—in fact, giving him a new lease of life.

THEY PURIFY THE BLOOD,

cleansing the vital fluid of all hurtful impurities and supplanting them with the elements of genuine healthfulness. In a word, there is scarcely a disease in which they cannot be safely and beneficially employed, but in the generally prevalent distressing and dreaded disease, dyspepsia,

THEY STAND UNRIVALED.

Now, there are certain classes of persons to whom expreme bitters are not only unpalatable, but who find it impossible to take them without positive discomfort. For such, has been prepared. It is intended for use where a slight alcoholic stimulant is required. This tonic contains all the ingredients of the bitters, but so flavored as to remove the extreme bitterness.

HOOFLAND'S TONIC

acts with almost marvelous effect. It not only stimulates the flagging and wasting energies, but invigorates and permanently strengthens its action upon the liver and stomach thorough, perhaps less prompt than the Bitters, when the same quality is taken is none the less certain. Indigestion, biliousness; physical or nervous prostration, yield readily to its potent influence. It gives strength to weakness, throws dependency to the winds, and starts the restored invalid upon a new and gladsome career. But Dr. Hoofland's benefactions to the human race are not confined to his celebrated or his invaluable Tonic. He has prepared another medicine, which is rapidly winning its way to popular favor because of its intrinsic merits. This is a perfect substitute for mercury, without any of mercury's evil qualities.

GERMAN BITTERS,

These wonderful pills which are intended to act upon the liver, are mainly composed of Podophyllin, or the VITAL PRINCIPLE OF MANDRAKE ROOT.

Now we disire the reader to distinctly understand that this extract of the Mandrake is many times more powerful than the Mandrake itself. It is the medical virtues of this health giving plant in a perfectly pure and highly concentrated form. Hence it is that two of the Podophyllin pills constitue a full dose, while anywhere six to eight or a handful of other preparations of the Mandrake are required. The Podophyllin stimulating its functions and causing it to make its bilary secretions in regular and proper quantities. The injurious results which invariably follow the use of mercury is entirely avoided by their use.

Possessing desirable qualities, the Podophyllin becomes invaluable as a

FAMILY MEDICINE

No household shou'd be without them. They are perfectly safe, require but two for an ordinary dose are prompt and efficient in action, and when used in connection with Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, or Tonic, may be regarded as certain specifics in all cases of liver complaint dyspepsia, or any of the disorders to which the system is ordinarily subject. The act upon the stomach and bowels, carrying off improper obstructions, while the Bitters or Tonic purify the blood.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, Made of Poor Rum Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erisipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores, cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

Rev. Winfred H. Dean, now of Kinsman, Ohio, has accepted the rectorship of St. Timothy's church, of this place, and will preach at 10½ o'clock, a. m. and at 7 p. m., next Sunday. A general invitation is extended.

A very small but rather welcome rain fell on Monday night, or very early Tuesday, Morning. All travelers unite in saying that roads of every class are exceedingly dusty. The canal is not that way, but some of the rivers learn in that direction.

The Song Messenger by Root & Cady, Chicago, one of the best established and most successful musical periodicals in the country, is fully alive with good music and harmonious reading in the October number. Beside the entertaining reading matter there are half a dozen pages of good music, or it would not be there.

Mr Helmbold, the distinguished medicine man, is at present in a trouble about his financial affairs. But from all that we can see our brethren of the press seem to have full faith that he will come out all right yet—he has been too successful a business man to go overboard with this gale of adversity.

STEAM.—We have at last achieved the dignity of steam. One of these neat little engines, built by the Buckeye Works (Sharp, Davis & Bonsall,) of Salem, which takes about as much room as an ordinary cook stove, is in our office. Of its efficiency we need not say anything, as so many of them have been tried all over this part of the country with such unvarying favorable results that we are sure this will prove no exception. It runs with a small amount of steam—it is said to be about a two horse and one colt power—but furnishes force sufficient to do all we require and have power to spare. Having the largest job press made we are now prepared to accommodate customers at short notice with all such work as we are prepared to execute. So bring on your orders.

Nineteen candidates for state, district and county officers have to be voted for on next Tuesday. In addition electors are also requested to vote on the constitutional question Yes or No. And in Perry township still another candidate is to be elected—one for justice of the peace. Mr. Warran C. Richards has been nominated for that position, and B. B. Warner, Esq, announces himself an independent candidate for the place. The democrats have not yet named a candidate for justice, that we are aware.

Mr. Geo. McGrath of this place had a cow killed on the railroad last Wednesday—or so injured that it was necessary to take her life. It is not safe for animals to run at large, over railroad tracks, as too many instances prove. Some say the law requires that railroad be fenced up, but where there is a street or road crossing how is this to be done? This last accident happened not far from a street crossing, as we understand.

Good authority informs us that one of the Canton candidates for office, not a republican, was supplying some of his expected constituents with liberal portions of lager beer on last Sunday, not very far north west of town. It was then ten days till the election, and if he or others would hold on to their voters till voting time it will cost considerable of barley soup to keep them in the traces. Such voters are apt to support the man who treats last.

Drumming and tooting was heard on the streets last Saturday evening, emanating from the instruments of one of the bands in town. The object was to gather a crowd to go to Kendall green and hear L. L. Lamborn, the comeouter abolitionist of 1856—7, speak his democratic piece. Having no reporter on hand we have not heard the result, but suppose the candidate for senatorial honors, who is to be favored by somebody, if reports are true, with boughten voters, made a speech. Perhaps we were behind the times, but like many others, knew nothing of this demonstration till it was over. What's the use of being so shy?

Messrs. Kelly & Brown, as will be seen by the several notices elsewhere, are still in the field with an immense variety of hardware in every thing in their line.

In traveling through the country one cannot but notice that this is one of the favorable years for pumpkins. Cornfields are liberally sprinkled with them, and their golden color indicates richness in food for man and other creatures. Pumpkin pies will prevail.

Since the 20th of August we have had but little rain, so the ground has been pretty dry. The drizzle we had about the middle of September was not enough to saturate the earth—but it will come some of these days.

THE FAIR at Canton last week, according to the Rep & Rep was attended by people in large numbers, notwithstanding the rather cool, disagreeable state of the weather, which sometimes portended rain, but it did not come. The exhibition of machinery, manufactured articles, stock, and the finer articles, was also good—better than usual. In the extended list of machinery and agricultural implements special note is made of the unusual variety presented by the Excelsior Works of this place. Myers & Willison had their superior scrapers and other productions of their establishment on hand All these attracted a fair show of attention. Wm. Pinn, a colored man near this place also had a scraper which he exhibited, and every one could see the great improvement his ingenuity has added to this simple article. The fast horses, however monopolized a good show of interest, and among them Sole Leather Dick proved himself a live institution, not to be fooled by shows, but keeps right along on the track about his business. There were other ponies which could beat him, but there also some which could not. All together, according to Rep & Rep authority, the fair was a success. It certainly should be in one of the most populous and wealthy counties in Ohio. The managers deserve credit for the interest they took in the responsible places they fill.

A REALLY GOOD INVENTION.—It is very seldom we commend to the public in this way patent improvements and inventions, which belong more properly to our advertising columns. What we have to commend however, so deeply concerns the health, happiness and comfort of our American women that we make no apology for giving it our most emphatic approval and endorsement The invention refered to is the great American Washer, which is claimed to be in every conceivable respect superior to any other "washer" extant. It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most easily-operated, and is not at all liable to get out of order. Its construction is so simple, that even a child can be successfully taught to operate in an incredible short space of time.

Some of the most prominent and desirable features in this washer, which is an inducement in itself, are worthy of especial commendation. They are these: It is always ready for use; there is no adjusting; no screw to confuse and annoy, and no delay what ever in adapting it. Everything seems to have been done that ingenuity could suggest and in our estimation it is simply a practical, sensible and beautiful invention, and only requires to be seen to be appreciated, which cannot fail to please the taste of the most fastidious.—Philadelphia Weekly Press.

SIGN PAINTING.—We have a number of proficients in town in the art of painting signs, and the numerous proofs of their skill may be seen in unnumbered places along the streets. Let it be known we are also in the sign making business. Our work appears in the shape of advertisements, cards, posters and many other shapes. Then our signs are portable—can be carried or sent to any place however far off. A great many have tried our signs, are now doing so, and will continue in this way, so we have an abundance of certificates of the efficiency of our sign painting.

As may be seen by notices in to-day's paper, Mr. Dewees, has disposed of his hat, cap, and furnishing establishment to Mr. L. Q. Hoover, who continues the business at No. 2, Opera Block Mr. H has embarked in business among us, and it is hoped will realize a fair share of public patronage. The location is a pleasant one, well known, and as Mr. H. has had experience in the business he will make it a success.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The executive committee of the Stark County Teachers Association take pleasure in announcing that arrangements have been perfected for holding a week's Institute at Navarre, commencing on Monday, Oct. 16th, at 10, a. m., when the annual election of officers of the Association will be held. Regular instructions will be given in all the common English branches, and upon the theory and practice of teaching. Applicants for teacher's certificates, who attend the whole week, will be granted the privilege of going through a part or the whole of their examination before the close of the week; and a public general examination will be held on Saturday, Oct 21st, immediately after the Institute. It is highly desirable that the teachers of Stark county attend this meeting en masse. The institute will be adapted to their special wants and requirements. Come in the beginning and remain to the end. Instructions free. Parties will provide for their own entertainment.

THE EX. COM.

It is but a few weeks since our energetic fellow citizen, D W. Huntsman, left us for the busy city of Pittsburg, or rather Allegheny City. A paper from that place states that Mr. H and his partner, W. R. Hamilton, are doing a very large business, and have the best and most modern stock of goods on hand, and occupy rooms ingeniously calculated to facilitate the trade in which they are engaged. When our valuable citizens leave us to better their fortunes it is a satisfaction to know that they are not disappointed, but are prospering, as is the case in this instance.

There are several candidates for matrimony about town, and vicinity, who, if they want to possess themselves with something in the way of stationery for billetduxes, to send to their ducks, can be supplied by calling at this office.

Exuberant Health

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life, and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not much to say more than half the people of the civilized world need an occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, unexciting tonic is the grand desideratum of the busy millions; and they have the article in Hostetter's stomach bitters. It is a staminal medicine, i. e. it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced, ad libitum, and as far as the public is concerned, ad nauseum, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the great medical success of the past century, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known, or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses running incessantly (Sundays excepted,) the whole year through, barely supply the demand for the illustrated Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over eight millions a year.

PSYCHOMANCY.

This word is derived from the Greek, signifying the power of the soul, spirit or mind, and is the basis of all human knowledge. Psychomancy is the title of a book of 400 pages, by Herbert Hamilton, B. A., giving full instructions in the science of soul charming and physcologic fascination; how to exert this wonderful power over men or animals instantaneously, at will. It teaches mesmerism, how to become trance or writing mediums, divination, spiritualism, alchemy, philosophy of omens and dreams, Brigham Young's Harem, Guide to Marriage &c. This is the only book in the English language professing to teach this occult power, and is of immense advantage to the merchant in selling goods, the lawyer in gaining the confidence of jurors, and the physician in healing the sick, to lovers, in securing the affections of the opposite sex, and all seeking riches or happiness. Price, by mail, in cloth, $1.25; paper covers, $1. For sale by J B Lippincott & Co., and Claxson, Remson & Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Agents wanted for this book, private medical works, perfumery, jewelry &c., who will receive samples free. Address T. W. Evans, Publisher and Perfumer, 41 South st. Philadelphia, Pa.

A strangely fascinating, powerfully written book. From a new stand point and upon a subject of vital and absorbing interest. In two parts. Showing the horrors of the barbarous system of treatment in vogue in many prisons, and the advantages of the system recently inaugurated in others, together with a true and detailed account of the maltreatment and cruelties practiced upon prisoners; also, shame faced criminalities with the female convicts, mutinies, murders, starvings, whippings, hair breadth escapes, sketches and incidents, narratives, pen pictures, sunshine and shade, illustrative of prison life Written by a Convict, in a Convict's Cell. In one volume 540 pages, over 50 elegant engravings, made expressly for this book. 48 sample pages and sample illustrations sent on application, or a bound prospectus, for 80 cents. C. F. Vent, Cincinnati, New York or Chicago.

JU-RUBEBA

WHAT IS IT?

It is a sure and perfect remedy for all diseases of the liver and spleen, enlargement or obstruction of intestines, urinary, uterine or abdominal organs, poverty or a want of blood, intermittent or remittent fevers, inflamation of the liver, dropsy, sluggish circulation of the blood, abscesses, tumors, jaundice, scrofula, dyspepsia, ague and fevers or their concomittants.

Dr. Wells having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the south American plant, called sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even excell the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public, and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular monthly supply of this wonderful plant. He has spent much time in experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as

Dr Wells' Extract of Jurubeba.

And he confidently recommends it to every family as a household remedy which should be freely taken as a blood purifier in all derangements of the system and to animate and fortify all weak and lymphatic temperaments. John Q. Kellogg, Platt st. N. Y. Sole agent for the United States. Price one dollar per bottle Send for circular.

THE NOVELTY

CLOTHES WRINGER.

Nothing, except the sewing machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the wringer. But its usefulness does not stop here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture last twice as long when wrung in a wringer as when rung by hand. The Novelty has cog wheels on both ends. The rolers are allowed to separate freely at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—N Y Independent.

The Novelty wringer has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first class practical machine. Indeed, after using one for many months in our own family we are prepared to endorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the last press says unequaled), by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Mooney's Retail New Yorker.

THE WONDERFUL SPRINGS OF FLORIDA.—The springs of Florida are certainly the largest and prettiest in the world, and are scattered promiscuously over the entire State. The blue spring near Mariana is as blue as the bluest blue. At Marion there is a spring of a paler, clearer blue. and is claimed to have been the favorite fishing stream of Osceola. In Sumter county there is another spring, whose waters are like a seething cauldron. Sulphur springs of great magnitude and beauty are contiguous to nearly every river in the state, and many of them are much resorted to by invalids. But the largest and most beautiful of them all is Silver Spring; near this place—a spring navigable by steamers of several tons burden. This spring is said to be the "fountain of youth" which De Sota dreamed and vainly searched for. The clearness of this spring is indeed wonderful, and seems more transparent than air. You see the bottom eighty feet below, the shadow of your boat, the exact form of the smallest pebble, and you can see the fissures in the rocks from which the water pours upward like an inverted cataract.—Cor. New York Times.

Whately alludes to the folly of men who unmask their battery hastily, and and then think of loading their guns.

Exalted imagination may work miracles; but it is only when we immolate self to principle that we are truly virtuous.

If a man does not make new friendships as he advances through life, he will soon find himself left alone. A man should keep his friendship in constant repair.

Youthful minds, like the pliant wax, are susceptible of the most lasting impressions; and the good or evil bias they then receive is seldom if ever eradicated.

Nowadays kitchen girls are termed 'young ladies of the lower parlor. People who go about grinding knives, scissors, and razors are termed, 'gentlemen of the revolution.' Folks who dig clams are termed 'profound investigators.'

A carpenter being asked for a riddle propounded the following: I picked it up; I couldn't find it; I put it down and went a long with it. No one could guess it. It was a splinter in his foot.

A western gentleman advertises for a self supporting wife. The rascal is doubtless a charge upon the community himself. Girls, beware of him.

So necessary is fun to the mind, that a late philosopher says if you should build schools without playgrounds, nobody would get beyond short divisien in a life time.

'Is molasses good for a cough?' inquired Jones, who had taken a slight cold and was barking with considerable energy. 'It ought to be,' said Brown, 'it is sold for consumption.'

A CARD.

A clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of nervous weakness, early decay, disease of the urinary and seminal organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious habits. Great numbers have been cured by this noble remedy. Promoted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medidine, in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it, free of charge. Dr. J. LONG,

Eclectic Physician,

Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.

Office east of the Park, second door of Mr. Falke's new building.

All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.

Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgment of both patient and physician.

Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters,

JAMES LONG, M. D.,

The Diamond Glasses,

Manufactured by

J. E. Spencer & Co., N. Y.,

Which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the World to be the Most Perfect, Natural, Artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, 'Diamond,' on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the core or center of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are Mounted in the Finest Manner in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose.

Their Finish and Durability cannot be surpassed.

Manhood; how Lost, how Restored.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. CULVERWELL'S Celebrated Essay on the radical cure, without medicine, of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal weakness, involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price in a sealed envelope only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on receipt of six cents or two post stamps.

Also, Dr Culverwell,s "marriage Guide," price 25 cents.

at the closest possible discount. The losses through misplaced confidence, to any merchant doing a credit business, are numerous, and corrupts the integrity and solvency of an establishment, as protective tariffs operate as contagious disease impoverishes the body physical. 412tf

Treats all private diseases with great success. Spermatorrhœa, or seminal weakness and impotency, caused by selfabuse, etc—producing General Debility of the body, Indigestion, want of proper Manliness, Loss of Memory, Indolence; reducing the System so as to render Marriage unadvisable—Permently Cured.

Long standing constitutional disease skillfully treated and cured.

Effects of Mercury Eradiated.

The doctor gives particular attention to Female complaints. Sterility, Ammenorrhœa, Mennorrhagia, and all such diseases, causing annoyance and interfering with the general health and enjoyment of life, invariably removed.

Send for the doctor's medical pamphlet, treatire, in plain language, on veneral diseases, enabling the afflicted to understand their own complaints. Free at office or sent securely sealed, for six cents.

Ample accomodations for patients from a distance at the house.

Office hours from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted All communications to be addressed DR. AUGUSTUS SLEE, 264 Penn street, Pittsburg, Pa.

Continues to treat all private diseases, syphilis in all its forms, gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; spermatorrhea or seminal weakness and impotency, resulting from self abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unstory, and therefore imprudent, are nently cured.

It is self evident that the physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and, treats thousands of cases every year must acquire a greater skill in that speciality than one in general practice.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be sent by mail or express.

The doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail, in sealed envelope, for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

COMPOUND FLUID

Extract Catawba

GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

For Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Billous Affections, Sick or Nervous Headache, Costiveness, etc. Purely vegetable containing no Mercury, Minerals or Deleterious drugs.

H

These pills are the most elightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnetia, etc, There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients, After a few day's use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmboid's Compound Fluid Extract Catawaba Grape Pills are not sugar coated, from the fact that sugar coated pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. The Catawaba Grape Pills, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar coated, Price 50 cents per box.

E

Henry T. Helmbold's

Highly Concentrated Compound

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Will radically exterminate from the system scrofula, syphilis, fever sores, ulcers sore eyes sore legs, sore mouth, sore head, bronchitis, skin diseases, salt rheum, cankers, runnings from the ear, white swellings tumors, cancerous affections, nodes, rickets, glandular swellings, night sweats, rash, dyspepsia, and all diseases that have been established in the system for years.

L

Being prepared expressly for the above complaints, its blood purifying propensities are greater than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. It gives the complection a clear and healthy color, and restores the patient to a state of health and purity. And is the only reliable remedy for the cure of pains and swellings of the bones, ulcerations of the throat and legs, blotches, pimples, erysipelas and all scaly eruptions of the skin, and beautifying the complexion. Price $1,50 per bottle.

M

Henry T. Helmbold's

CONCENTRATED

Fluid Extract Buchu,

The Great Diuretic, has cured every case of diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the neck of the bladder, and inflamation of the kidneys, ulceration of the kidneys and bladder, retention of the urine, gravel, milky discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with loss of memory, indisposition, weak nerves, trembling, pain in the back, hot hands, dryness of the skin, and a host of other symptoms. Used by persons from the ages of eighteen to twenty-five, and from thirty-five to fifty-five, or in the decline for change of life; after confinement or labor pains; bed wetting in children.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is Diuretic and blood purifying, and cures diseases arising from dissipation, excess and imprudences in life, impurities of the blood, etc., supersedes copaiby in affections in which it is used, and syphilic affections—in these affections used in connection with Helmbold's rose wash.

Ladies, In many affections peculiar to ladies, the buchu is unequaled by any other remedy—as in chlorosis, irregularity, ulcerated state of the uterus, leucorrhœa or whites sterility, and for all complaints incidentlto the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or dissipation. It is prescribed by physicians and midwives for the enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, and all ages.

O

H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU cures diseases arising from imprudences habits of dissipation, etc, in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire, and gives strength to urinate, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing strictures of the urethra, so frequent in this class of diseases.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the urinary organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating and no matter c how long standing. Price $1,50 cents pe bottle.

HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED ROSE WASH cannot be surpassed as a face wash, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of cutaneous affection. It speedily eradicates pimples, spots, indurations of the cutaneous membrane, etc., dispels redness and incipient inflamation, hives, rash, moth patches, dryness of the scalp or skin, frost bites, and all purposes for which salves and ointments are used. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a syphilitic nature, and as an injection for diseases of the urinary organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the extracts Buchu, Sarsaparilla, and Catawba Grape Pills, in such cases as recommended cannot be surpassed. Price $1 per bottle.

D

Full and explicit directions accompanying the medicines. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character furnished on application, with hundreds of thousands of living witnesses, and upward of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent physicians, clergymen, statesmen, etc. The proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as standard preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.
